

Disclosure of Transfers of Value Methodological Note for Diurnal 2022

Diurnal methodology, 2022

Diurnal is a small predominantly research-based company with two licensed products. During 2022 Diurnal marketed medicines in the United Kingdom, Germany, Austria and Italy. During this period the Diurnal medicines were also marketed in other countries, for example the United States, Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Iceland by partner organisations who disclose transfers of value as separate entities.

In November 2022 Diurnal was acquired by an American Pharmaceutical company, Neurocrine Biosciences. As of 1st November 2022, Diurnal is a wholly owned subsidiary of Neurocrine Biosciences.

Diurnal has agreed to comply with the ABPI Code of Practice to document and publicly disclose payments or other transfers of value made directly or indirectly to HCPs, ORDMs and HCOs. This note describes Diurnal's method of disclosure of Transfer of Value (ToV) for 2022 in accordance with the requirements of the ABPI code. From 1st January 2022 until 31st October 2022 all in-scope ToV's made worldwide by Diurnal are declared. Diurnal does not have the means/mechanism to disclose values outside the UK e.g. in Austria, Germany and Italy, owing to a lack of affiliates, hence these ToV's are declared in full here.

From 1st November until 31st December, following the acquisition of Diurnal by Neurocrine Inc, all payments made by Diurnal to recipients outside the United States are declared. Transfers of Value made by Neurocrine Inc. from 1st November until 31st December, to recipients within Europe are declared.

ToV's declared include the VAT applied at different levels in countries in which the payment was made. Amounts declared are in UK sterling calculated with the conversion rates at the time of payment except for R&D. Here payments were aggregated by currency and the amount in UK sterling was calculated using an average exchange rate for that currency in 2022. Where contracts extend beyond a single year, in-year payments only are declared. Individual consent has been sought for individual payments to healthcare professionals with no refusals. Diurnal had no collaborative working agreements in 2022.
